MTC Side

FRANK: Unlock a mind - unmind a lock - it's the same as the beginning of the end - do you follow? I wonder, may I offer you something refreshing?

BRAD & JANET: No.

FRANK: No. You're right, I won't - how delightful to have fresh faces around. Magenta - Columbia - go and assist Riff Raff - I will entertain - Ahh.

BRAD: Brad Majors.

FRANK: Brad Majors.

BRAD: And this is my fiancée, Janet Weiss. (He pronounces it "Vice".)

JANET: Weiss.

BRAD: Weiss.

FRANK: How nice - and what charming under-clothes you both have... We don't often receive visitors here, let alone show them hospitality.

BRAD: Hospitality! All we wanted was to use your phone, a reasonable request which you have chosen to ignore.

JANET: Don't be ungrateful, Brad.

BRAD: Ungrateful!

FRANK: How forceful you are, Brad, what a perfect example of manhood - so dominant - you must be very proud, Janet.

JANET: Yes.

FRANK: Tonight, Brad and Janet, you are to witness a new breakthrough in Biochemical research and paradise is to be mine ...

JANET: Oh, how wonderful for you.

FRANK: Yes. It was strange the way it happened ... one of those quirks of fate really ... one of those moments when ... everything looks black, the chips are down, your back is against the wall. You panic - you're trapped - there's no way out and even if there was it would probably be a one-way ticket to the bottom of the bay. And then suddenly you get a break - all the pieces seem to fit into place - what a sucker you'd been - what a fool - the answer was there all the time - it took a small accident to make it happen. That's how I discovered the secret - that elusive ingredient - that spark that is the breath of life. Yes, I have that knowledge, I hold the key to life itself, you see Brad and Janet you are fortunate for tonight is the night my beautiful creature is destined to be born. Now, throw open the switches on the sonic oscillator and step up the reactor power input... Three. More. points!
